Big Names To Tee Off At Cypress Point, Country Club At 11:00 On Friday

A little after 11:00 o'clock will be the time to see the luminaries tee off at Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula Country Club courses tomorrow when the three-day National Pro-Amateur Golf Championship, Bing Crosby's big charitable tournament, opens here for the tenth year.

Bob Hope, paired with Mike Soucheck is scheduled to start at 11:22 at Cypress Point; Ed Crowley and Dr. Cary Middlecoff precede him at 11:16, while Phil Harris and Gene Littler follow at 11:38 Dizzy Dean, Wesley Ellis, Red Saunders and Harry Todd.

Movie and football enthusiasts will find plenty to interest them at the Country Club also at the same time. Randy Scott and Harry Weetman, Ed Lowery and Byron Nelson tee off at 11:14. At 11:22, Dean Martin, Ed Porky Oliver, John Brodie (Stanford '49ers) and Al Mengert; at 11:30, Dennis O'Keefe; Bud Hofmeister; 11:46 Johnny Weissmuller and Jim Clark.

Other movie, radio, football, baseball and golf big names lead the roster of 272 pros and amateurs making up 136 teams.

The teams will switch courses on Saturday, and on Sunday the low 60 teams will fight it out over the Pebble Beach course.

This afternoon the traditional golf clinic is being held on the second tee at Pebble Beach, starting at 3:00 o'clock. The three day "Clambake" ends with a flourish Sunday night, when Bing Crosby (Continued on Page Three)

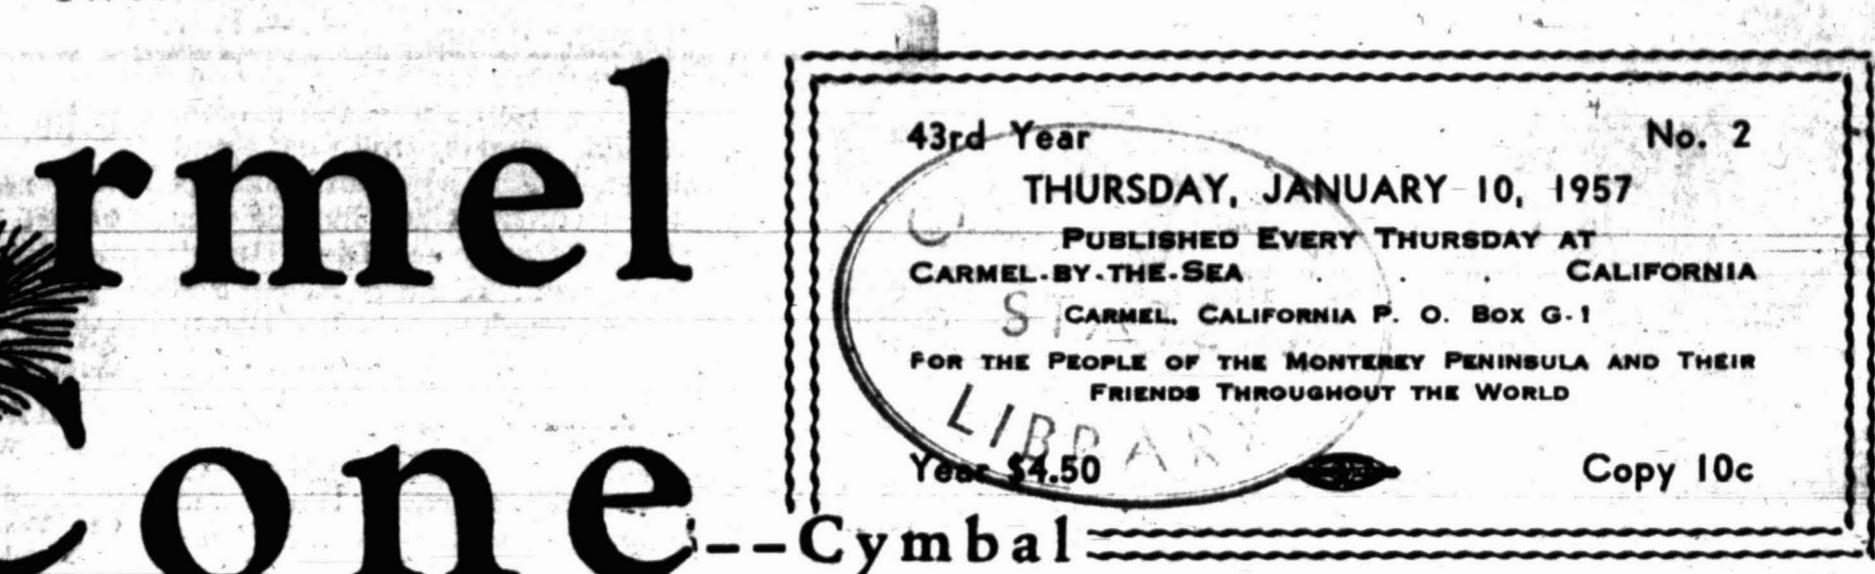

Public Hearing On C-2 Amendment Set For January 23

Carmel citizens will have the opportunity to express their opinions to the Planning Commission about the proposed C-2 multiple dwelling amendment to the Interim Zoning Ordinance on January 23 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon at a public hearing.

The amendment is to control multiple dwellings, to exclude motels in the C-2 zone. Each dwelling unit in the proposed amendment must be above the ground floor of a building; have 1000 square feet of land; 400 square feet of this land must be left open for one off-street parking space and landscaping per dwelling.

Each dwelling unit must have a minimum of four rooms; kitchen, bathroom, living room and bedroom.

After the public hearing the amendment, revised if the Plan (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Co. Planners Save Bixby Creek Beach

The Monterey County Planning Commission voted unanimously to keep Bixby Creek Beach in the county plan for beach acquisition at its meeting Tuesday afternoon in supervisors' chambers in Salinas.

Keith Evans, Carmel, taking part in his first meeting after his appointment to replace Thomas Elston, who resigned last month, urged that the beach be retained in the plan.

"I think as much property west of the coast highway should go under state control as possible. Also, it would create a dangerous precedent if an area is excluded for a group like this." He was referring to the Bixby Creek Property Owners Corporation, 21 land owners, which had applied for the exclusion on the grounds the beach is difficult of access and improving the approach would spoil the natural beauty of its surroundings.

"There is no area where such a problem would not arise," Evans pointed out. "Partington Beach is also difficult of access. I have property there and I'd like to keep the beach for my private fishing."

A letter from C. Edward Graves, Western Representative of the National Parks Association, was read asking that the matter be put over for further study.

It's Official Carmel's Census Is Set For March

Carmel's special census is scheduled for March. City Clerk Larry Rose learned Monday in a telephone call with the Los Angeles branch of the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, which is the full title of the vips who will engineer the census for the city. At Wednesday night's city council meeting, the council signed a warrant for $675 which Mr. Rose will mail to the Dept. of Comm., Bu. of Cen. as a down payment. Total cost of the job will be around $1150. It is expected that Carmel will get this back, and more, in increased gas tax allocation and other perquisites that depend on population.

A field man for the D of C, B of C, will set up office in city hall in March and screen applications for census taking, which Mr. Rose will receive any time now. He doesn't know what the job pays, but $435 is the amount budgeted by the B of C for census enumerators' pay, printed forms, etc. The $675 down payment covers salary for the field man and preparation of a census map of the city.

Carmel may find itself in the role of a legal guinea pig, the city council learned at last night's regular council meeting when City Attorney John Morse told them that there has been no California case directly deciding two points involved in the State Board of Alcoholic Beverage Control's decision to issue a license to the Pink Elephant Liquor store.

The validity of one of Carmel's zoning ordinances is at stake and the council took a long look last night at what it could do about it, and did the first thing first, directed Mr. Morse to prepare an appeal to be filed with the appeal board before February 7 (the last of the 40 days grace allowed for taking such action.) If the appeal board upholds the A.B.C., then the council will have to come to grips with the question of whether or not it wants to fight in court for its zoning ordinance. To be or not to be the guinea pig.

The two points at issue which have never had a test in court:

Can the State Board of Alcoholic Beverage Control rule on the validity of a city's zoning ordinance and issue a license or should there be a court determination of the validity of the zoning ordinance first; and Whether Carmel's zoning ordinance, in fact, attempts to regulate the sale of liquor so as to invade the field of the A.B.C.

The A.B.C. has ruled invalid Carmel's ordinance which stipulates that in certain areas of the business district the sale of alcoholic beverages must be subordinate to some other business (example: drug stores and grocery stores selling "bottle goods" along with everything else, etc.) and has granted an off sale license to Paul E. Chedester and Robert A. Aeberold for their Pink Elephant liquor store on the rear of the Pilot Market parking lot at Junipero and Sixth Street. The city, in protesting the issuance of the license, maintained that the sale of liquor would not be subordinate to other business activities at the Pink Elephant, which will be located in the zone governed by the ordinance.

Seven new commercial buildings were constructed in Carmel last year valued at $284,000.00 and 35 residences costing $493,700.00. Mr. Adams issued 79 permits for $122,209.00 worth of remodelling and additions to homes; 32 permits for $133,516.00 worth of remodelling and additions to commercial buildings.

No permits were issued for remodelling or additions to public buildings.

The A.B.C. conceded that the sale of liquor at the Pink Elephant (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Letters To The Editor

Carmel-by-the-Sea
January 7, 1957.

Dear Mrs. Cook:

Referring to your report on the Pink Elephant liquor license situation, it is gratifying to note our City Council will take appropriate action.

Hundreds of letters are on file at our City Hall protesting the encroachment of liquor stores at residential lines. Our City Council has wisely provided through ordinance a zone for liquor stores and the Pink Elephant can locate their store in that zone without opposition. It is therefore to be hoped, they might be prevailed upon to reconsider their plans and make arrangements to locate in the proper zone. That would be a happy solution to this question which is now troubling hundreds of our citizens.

The prospect of having other off sale liquor establishments bordering our residential lines throughout Carmel is not a pretty picture to contemplate and that is exactly what could happen unless this matter is resolved right now.

We urge all citizens to do what they can in the way of protest, petition and action to assist in bringing this matter to a harmonious conclusion for all parties concerned.

CARMEL HOOP SQUADS AT KING CITY FRIDAY NIGHT

Losers of three league games in a row, Carmel High basketball teams will attempt to get on the winning track tomorrow night at King City where Padres take on the blue and white Mustangs. A look at comparative scores shows that the Mustang varsity should clip the Padre heavies by a whopping margin as King City easily whipped Pacific Grove and the Breakers clobbered the local preps. Led by Monte Andrus, one of the fastest cagers in the league, and Hank Corda, a rough rebounder and accurate hook-shot specialist, the Mustangs have good size and their lineup is liberally sprinkled with veteran performers.

In the 7:00 o'clock lightweight game, Coach Fred Rainer will open with a starting five of Russ Wise, Jack Faia, Jamie Holman, Captain Jim Lee, and Pete Willcox. Return of Jack Faia to the lineup gives the Little Padres some much needed strength and provides the squad with a veteran performer who has been seasoned by league competition. A Padre second unit sure to see plenty of action is Bob Potter, Walt Helm, Pete Hensel, Ronnie Faia, and John Eiksmann.

The Padre varsity has been shaken up a bit with Charley Dawson, veteran guard, moving to the center spot to give the red and grey quintet stronger rebounding. Against King City, the Padres will open with Bill Hicks and Clyde Klaumann at the forwards; Charley Dawson, center; Bill Wallace and Dale Dawson, guards. Unit number two which has been giving the starters a close battle in practice scrimmages consists of Fred Bruggemann and Jim Bannerman, forwards; Bob Durbrow, center; Joe Mason and Don Smith, guards.

PADRES DROP PAIR TO LIVE OAK

Outplayed, outshot, and out-fought, Carmel High's lightweight and varsity basketball teams proved easy prey for the hustling Live Oak squads last Friday night as the Oaks clobbered the limiteds, 45 to 15, and dished out the same treatment to the varsity, 41 to 27. Neither Carmel team came close to challenging the visitors who appeared to be in mid-season form with both teams hitting better than 35 per cent of their shots.

In the lightweight fracas, the Oaks raced to a 22-4 lead in the first half and eased up with the substitutes for the rest of the game. Loaded with senior players, the Live Oak lightweights are the best limited team in this area and it will take a great one to whip them. Jim Lee was high point-getter for the Padrecitos but his six-point effort didn't dent the Oaks very much.

Carmel's varsity got the first four points of the game and then went into a stall for the rest of the game as the swift Live Oak heavies literally hustled them off the court. Hitting on only 17 per cent of their shots the Carmel lads were also outrebounded at both ends of the court by the battling Oaks. Charley Dawson chipped in with seven points to lead the Carmel scorers while Bill Hicks was the leading rebounder for the Padres.

BING CROSBY TOURNAMENT SLATED FOR THIS WEEKEND

The fabulous Bing Crosby golf tournament which has meant so much to the youth of the Monterey Peninsula unfolds Friday morning at 7:30 a.m. with play scheduled for the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and the Cypress Point courses. Better known as "The Crosby Clambake," this is one tournament where fun, gaiety, and good humor supplant the tension, jitters, and quick tempers which are associated with professional golf tournaments. While the pros are battling for a piece of the $15,000 prize money the amateurs will be out for the hardware and glory. Host Bing pays all the bills for this colorful golf festival and all the proceeds are ticketed for charity.

Pressure of movie work prevents Bing from playing in this year's tournament but he will be on hand for the three day's play and will no doubt be jumping the fence at the 13th fairway to heckle, advise, and scout the performers. However, the Crosby family will have an active participant in the tournament as brother Bob teams up with Shelley Mayfield in the pro-amateur play.

Today, at 3:00 o'clock, on the second tee of the Pebble Beach course, the outstanding golf professionals of America will demonstrate to the public the secrets of propelling the little white ball from tee to cup. For one dollar, the average golfer can pick up enough golf tips to last him for a lifetime and those who do not play golf will be treated to some high class entertainment.

Besides the top golfers in the world, Bing's tournament includes celebrities from stage and screen, television, sports, military, and business. Friday's pro-am pairings at the Country Club include Les Barker (Tarzan) and Dick Turner at 8:42 a.m.; Richard Arlen and Chuck Congdon, 8:50; Buddy Rogers and Marvin Stahl, 9:14; Bob Lemon and Otto Graham go out together at 9:30; Dean Martin and John Brodie are paired up for a 11:22 starting time; and Johnny Weismuller (former Tarzan) tees off with Jimmy Clark at 11:46. Over at Cypress Point baseball star Jackie Jensen and Andy Silva get underway at 9:14; General Omar Bradley and Fred Wampler tee off at 9:30; Maj. General Bob McClure and Joe Moore at 9:54; Ed Crowley and Dr. Cary Middlecoff at 11:06; Bob Hope and Mike Souchak at 11:22; Phil Harris and Gene Little at 11:30; Dizzy Dean and Red Sanders are in the same foursome at 11:38; and George Gallos and Ralph Blomquist, winners of the pro-am division last year, tee off at 11:46.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff has won the professional division of the Crosby for the last two years and will be out to make it three in a row this year. Cary tuned up for the "Crosby Clambake" by playing in the Los Angeles Open and appears to be shooting his usual steady methodical game. Lloyd Mangrum, also a two-time winner of the Crosby, will be on hand for another try and will receive able help from his amateur partner, Milt Wershaw.

The golfers will swap courses Saturday for the second round and the 60 leading pro-amateur teams and leading professionals will tee off at Pebble Beach Sunday morning for the finals.

Galleryites who feel the pangs of hunger while following the golfers may satisfy the inner man by looking for the Carmel Youth Center food tents where hot dogs, coffee, sandwiches and soft drinks will be available at bargain prices.

PADRES PLAY IN MONTEREY TUESDAY EVENING

Tuesday afternoon, the Padres journey over the hill for three games with the Monterey Toros. The junior-varsity teams square off at 4:30, lightweights at 6:00 o'clock, and the varsities at 7:15.

Carmel Chamber Music Society To Present Third Concert On January 20

The Carmel Chamber Music Society will present its third concert of the season on Sunday evening, January 20, at 8:00 o'clock in the patio of the Carmel Craft Studios. The program is under the direction of Gilbert Boyer, pianist and conductor, assisted by Joseph Axup, Lloyd Clapper, and Michel MacKay of the executive committee.

The concert will open with a Mozart Flute Quartette in D-major with Mitzi Erickson playing flute; David Hagemeyer, violin; Marie Sale, viola; and Carol Marsh, cello. Mrs. Erickson, wife of Major Gene Erickson, Presidio Headquarters office, studied flute with her father, Herbert Benkman flutist of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera. A music major, graduate of San Francisco State, Mrs. Erickson has taught music in San Mateo and Marin Counties, and is at present teaching flute in the Carmel Studios of Music. David Hagemeyer and Marie Sale, familiar Carmelites, are both studying at present with Francisco Mazzi of the San Francisco Symphony. Carol Marsh, young cellist, won several scholarships for her fine cello work, spending last summer at Interlachen Music Camp.

The Bach violin concerto in A-minor with violin soloist Jerald Slavich will follow. Mr. Slavich now is music instructor in the Salinas Schools, is a graduate of San Jose State where he studied with Gibson Walter, and more recently was a student of Ferenc Molnar of the San Francisco Symphony. Mr. Slavich studied the Bach concerto with Naoum Blinder last summer when the Chamber Music Society brought Mr. Blinder to Carmel for a violin workshop. Mr. Boyer will conduct the Chamber orchestra consisting of violinists David Hagemeyer, Miss Norma Del Chiaro, Mrs. Eiko Yoshizato, Miss Charlotte Perry; violists Mr. Lorell McCann and Mrs. Marie Sale; cellist Carol Marsh; contrabass Edwin W. Culver and pianist Clifton Robertson. Newcomer to the group Miss Del Chiaro is a student of Naoum Blinder and is a violin teacher in Salinas; Mrs. Yoshizato and Mr. Robertson are both new residents of Carmel. Mrs. Yoshizato is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music where she studied violin with Mischa Mischakoff. Mr. Robertson studied piano with George Copland in New York and is presently studying with Egon Petri. He has established a Piano Studio in Carmel. Charlotte Perry of the Perry-Mansfield School of Drama of Steamboat Springs Colorado lives in Carmel in the winter.

A contemporary work, the Poulenc Sonata for Four Hands at One Piano will be performed by Angie Machado and Clifton Robertson. Angie Machado has been associated with the Carmel Bach Festival as choral director for eight years. She is teacher of piano at Monterey Peninsula College and chorus director of the Santa Catalina School for Girls.

Concluding the program will be Dvorak's piano quintette with its somber Slavic themes and its gay unrestrained folk dance melodies, played by Gilbert Boyer, piano, Jerald Slavich and David Hagemeyer, violins; Lorell McCann, Hartnell College Music Director, viola and Constantin Vadetsky, former San Francisco cellist now living on the Peninsula. ★

Previous low was 204 set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1953.

A gallery of 25,000 turned out last year to watch the final day of play.

Grandfields Buy Handcraft Cottage

Mr. and Mrs. John Grandfield, owners of The Tuck Box English Tea Room on Dolores near Seventh Avenue, have purchased the Handcraft Cottage Gift Shop which adjoins their restaurant. The shop has been renamed The Tuck Box Gift Shop, and will be operated in its familiar location, one of Carmel's best known "storybook" cottages, just across the patio from the Tuck Box restaurant, also housed in one of the picturesque structures.

John and Elsie Grandfield will continue to conduct the Tuck Box Tea Room, while Mrs. Kate Inglis, potter and designer, will serve as their manager of the adjoining Tuck Box Gift Shop. Imports from all over the world, linens, china, pottery, decorative objects and both personal and ornamental accessories, suitable as presents, will be stocked in the renamed shop.

Soon an unusual collection of replicas of antique Aztec, Egyptian and other jewelry will be added.

Mrs. Inglis' pottery has been exhibited in the Bertha Schaeffer Gallery, New York; in the Phillips Gallery, Washington, D.C.; in the Worcester Art Museum and with a traveling exhibit of the Smithsonian Institute. Originally a resident of New York State, Mrs. Inglis was educated in England and in France, and has lived abroad for more than a decade. Her new post as manager of The Tuck Box Gift Shop brings her to Carmel for the first time.

John and Elsie Grandfield have owned The Tuck Box Tea Room for ten years. Both are natives of London, and in the Tuck Box they have made familiar to countless Carmelites and visitors such British tea hour delectables as scones, English muffins, marmalade and jam.

Letters To The Editor

(Continued from Page One) integrity, simplicity, and the uniqueness of our little city. I was one of the official protestants to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, believing that our City Council had a legal and legitimate right to establish an ordinance preventing the establishment of a liquor store on the fringes of the business district, adjoining the residential area.

It is a disgraceful thing that the liquor lobbyists became so thoroughly entrenched in the years past that our State laws were so amended as to deprive a city government and the population of a small community such as ours from having any autonomy or control over the number of liquor sales outlets within the city. Surely some day the abuses that have been brought about by this unfair legislation will cause enough red-blooded American people living in California to rise up in righteous wrath and change these unfair State laws.

Our residents should be so grateful to our City Council and to the Pine Cone for taking a positive stand of resistance against an arbitrary, unfair and unjust position, as evidenced by the recent ruling of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Sincerely yours,

J. F. Mackenzie

Dear Wilma:

Congratulations on your stand regarding the proposed withdrawal of Bixby Creek beach from the State beaches and parks program.

That the county planning commissioners acted as they did in turning down the withdrawal of this beach from the list of recreational beaches — and unanimously — is also deserving of congratulation.

It is noteworthy that Keith B. Evans had just been seated as a member of the county planning commission. I think we have a very worthy member from this area in this man whom I have known for many years as a public-minded citizen.

Cordially,
Frank Lloyd, Carmel.

Mrs. Wilma Cook,

Dear Wilma,

At this time, when the future of Carmel is being given so much careful and considerate thought, the decision of the State Board to invalidate a Carmel zoning law in the face of solid citizen and City protest should certainly give anyone genuinely interested in the place some pause for thought. One begins to ask the question what and where next?

It is comforting that the City of Carmel is alert to the implication and is taking a fighting stand. Let's hope that whatever support is needed from the residents of Carmel will be forthcoming.

Sincerely,
John Halloran

To the Editor,
The Carmel Pine Cone,

Dear Madam:

Thank you for the publicity given to the zoning situation involved in the application for a license to sell liquor at Torres and Sixth Streets.

It is incomprehensible that the state's alcoholic beverage control department should be so indifferent to the wishes of the Carmel Council and petitioning citizens.

Certainly the Council and all in a position to help should be urged and encouraged to fight such a ruling to a finish.

We will be willing to support such a move in every way possible.

Very sincerely,
John H. Payne.

French Film
Naughty as Law Allows

By ALTON COOK.

"Fruits of Summer" is a racy French comedy that takes an impudent delight in being as naughty as the law allows. Its tale of sexy indiscretions will keep it in the Plaza for a long time. In addition to being risqué, the dialogue is sharply witty, the mood of buoyant gaiety is infectious.

Most of the laughter comes from the campaign of a wife to reeducate her long estranged husband. He is not only unwilling, he is unaware of what is being tried.

The mistress of all this sly mischief is archly exuberant Edwige Feuillere, the Myrna Loy of French moviedom. She adds an extra lilt of merriment to the witty lines that come her way.

Co. Symphony's Second Concert In Grove Monday

Second concert of the 1956-57 season of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra on the Monterey Peninsula will be presented on Monday night in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock, under the direction of Gregory Millar.

Piano soloist is Roslyn Frantz in the Beethoven concerto No. 5 in E Major.

She is taking the place of Egon Petri who is unable to play because of serious illness in his family. For three years Roslyn Frantz was a student of Petri's at Mill's College. Previously she was soloist with the Portland Symphony and Standard Hour, at the age of 17.

Since coming to the Bay area she has been soloist and pianist for the San Francisco Little Symphony, under Director Gregory Millar for four years. For two years she was pianist for the Straw Hat Revue and spent two summers in Santa Barbara as soloist and artist student of Gyorgy Sandor at the Music Academy of the West. During the 1954-55 season Roslyn Frantz was coach-accompanist for Madame Lotte Lehmann in Santa Barbara.

In 1955 she was the winner of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation contest and, in April of the same year, appeared as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony, under the direction of Enrique Jorda. In August, 1955 Roslyn Frantz was soloist with Arthur Fiedler in the San Francisco Symphony summer pops concerts.

She is the wife of Conductor Gregory Millar and the mother of six-month-old Denise Millar.

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will also play Handel's Water Music, Miland's Suite Francaise, and Debussy's Iberia.

The same program will be given on Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock in the Salinas High School.

Gregory Millar is conducting the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra for the third year. He is also conductor of the San Francisco Little Symphony and this fall sang tenor roles with the New York City Opera Company.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN MEET TOMORROW

Annual meeting of the United Church Women will be held tomorrow at the Assembly of God Church in Pacific Grove at 11:00. Bring lunch. Interesting program at 1:30 on the religious and recreational work among migrant workers in California, including Monterey county.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Food for all literary tastes is included in the book menu this week. Consult the lists of new books posted on the bulletin board, and also the visible record file at the loan desk. These records and the card catalog can make you a self-reliant library patron. Here are some notes on the new books for this week.

Jean Cocteau is the title of an enthusiastic biography by Margaret Crosland. Cocteau is perhaps one of the outstanding characters in today's literary history.

The Architecture of Japan shows the clear relationship between modern building in Japan and America, and the classic simplicity of Japanese architectural design. It was written by Arthur Drexler.

The Living of These Days is the autobiography of that great preacher and councillor, Harry Emerson Fosdick. It is also a record of great personalities today and a discussion of the principles which have governed the life of the author.

The New Book of Guns contains notes on every make and model of gun, including this year's models, by Larry Koller. A good index helps a lot, too.

Dear Doctor is a collection of letters to doctors from their patients who didn't mean to be funny . . . but were. This small book was edited by Juliet Lowell.

A Right to be Merry is by Sister Mary Francis, P.C. The author is a nun in a contemplative order, the Poor Clares. This book gives the answer to that oft-repeated question "What do they DO all day?"

Across the Roof of the World is an account of the long journey made by the author, Wilfred Skrede, who crossed Russia and Turkestan in the pathway once used by the great Ghenghis Khan. This path proved to be almost as difficult today as it was in the time of the Khan.

The Meaning of Yalta places that most important conference of World War II in its proper historical perspective.

There are six new novels next week, including The Fountain Overflows by Rebecca West and her first novel in 20 years. It has had various sorts of reviews. You must decide for yourselves whether or not you think she is as masterly a novelist as she was 20 years ago.

David Dodge has written a new and very clever mystery novel entitled Angel's Ransom. The scene is in Monaco. There is also another mystery by Richard Parker, entitled Harm Intended, which is very British.

That's all we have space to mention today, but don't forget the lists, and you will have a check on everything going out to our new book shelves.

CONSERVATION FOR RECREATION

On Dec. 17 De Witt Nelson, Director of California's Department of Natural Resources, presented to the Assembly Committee on Public Lands a "Prospectus for achieving a California plan, program and procedure at all levels and segments of Government for the development, utilization and administration of land and water areas and facilities pertaining to opportunities for outdoor recreation which exist or may be needed in the foreseeable future". This will be submitted in the form of a bill to the present session of the State Legislature.

For both conservationists and recreationists this will be an extremely important bill. If it is passed, the sum of $300,000 will be available in three yearly installments to put the proposal into effect. It will set an example, and I hope a model, for other states to follow. It is high time that voters woke up to the significance of questions like this before it is too late.

Section 1 begins with these two sentences: "There is no integrated statewide plan for public outdoor recreation. There is urgent need for long range coordinated planning at all levels of government to provide more facilities and areas to meet the exploding outdoor recreation demand which is increasing at a faster rate than is the population of California."

The word exploding is perhaps the most significant word in those statements. The population of California is increasing at a phenomenal rate and if the recreation need is exploding beyond that, the crashing of the sound barrier can soon be heard. Many other states have only slightly less urgent problems of the same kind.

As an example of the interlocking problems of conservation and recreation I should like to quote a paragraph from an interview with Assemblyman Alan Pattee in the Pine Cone of January 3. Following a statement that he is on the Fish and Game Committee and is upset about what the lumber companies are doing to the mountains and streams in northern California, the editor quotes him as saying: "It looks like the Battle of the Marne. They have destroyed 600 miles of spawning streams, dumping logs and bark into the waterways. There must be more controlling legislation for the lumber industry."

This is only one of the head-on conflicts that the Committee on the California Public Recreation Plan, to which the study is to be entrusted, if the bill passes, will have to face. It is to be concerned with opportunities for outdoor recreation which exist or may be needed in the foreseeable future. The question might well be asked

In view of the rapidly exploding recreation need: How far can the committee foresee the future, and will it have the courage to plan for more than a small fraction of the future that it is able to foresee?

One intriguing statement of policy for the State of California in this proposal is: To maintain areas of peace, quiet and respectability so that they may be enjoyed by all the people. There can certainly be no peace and quiet where internal combustion engines shatter the natural quietude on land and on water. In this policy, then, there would seem to be some hope for wilderness conservationists in the foreseeable future.

THE ANGELAIRES FOR CONCERT ASSOCIATION

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present The Angelaires, harpists, for their third concert of the 1956-57 season Friday night, 8:15 o'clock, in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium.

PADRE TRAILS' WINNERS

Winners in black and white, in order were: Mrs. Olivia Young, Admiral E. C. Forsyth, Admiral Forsyth and Charles S. Reed.

Winners in color were Ernest Victorine, Paul Day, Doris Birkland and Mr. Victorine.

Program chairman, Col. E. L. Modlin, announced the Quarterly Inter-Club Competition of the Central Coast Counties Camera Club Council will be held at the House of Four Winds in Monterey at 8:00 o'clock January 26.

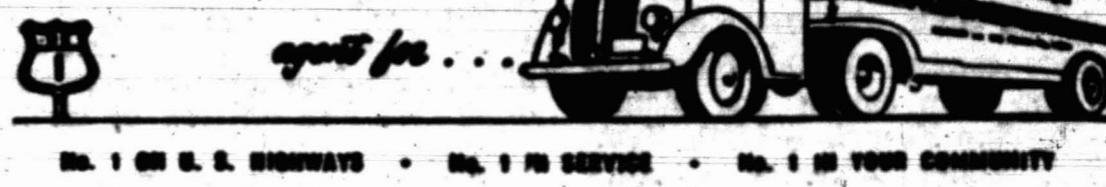

Through membership committee chairman, Mrs. Helen Day, an invitation is extended to all persons interested in photography to attend the next club meeting on January 17. More information may be obtained by calling her at FRONTIER 2-3550.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The answer to mankind's great need of purity and regeneration will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on Sacrament is the Golden Text from Psalms (24:3, 4): Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.

Selections to be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (241: 23-27): One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity.

This Year's Phelan Awards To Go For Oil Painting

An announcement was made today by the Trustees of the James D. Phelan Awards that selected oil paintings submitted to the 1957 James D. Phelan Awards Competition will be on exhibition at the M. H. deYoung Museum during the month of April.

The James D. Phelan Awards Competition offers three awards in oil painting; the First Award $500.00, the Second Award $400.00, and the Third Award $300.00. These are made available annually under the terms of a bequest made by the late Senator James D. Phelan "to bring about a further development of native talent in California in the fields of literature and art."

Applicants for the awards, both men and women, must be native born citizens of California, and must be between the ages of 20 and 40. Applications must be made on special forms which may be obtained from the office of the James D. Phelan Award in Literature and Art, 812 Grant Building, San Francisco 3.

Applicants must submit two paintings, both of which may be accepted for exhibition. The competition closes the 15th of March, 1957.

John Is Runner-up
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alton Anness II were almost the parents of the first baby to be born on the Monterey Peninsula in 1957, but their son John Carter was a little too slow in arriving at the Monterey Hospital in the early hours of January 1 and so he became the year's second arrival. Rooting for John to be the first 1957 baby were his brother Charles and sisters Kay, Deborah and Patricia. The Anness family live at Carmel Highlands.

Pattee Makes First Move To Control Lumber Companies

Alan G. Pattee, assemblyman from our district, has launched his attack on the destructive practices of the lumbering companies with a plan for a bill, which he submitted to De Witt Nelson, Director of Natural Resources, in a letter dated January 4.

Mr. Pattee told the Pine Cone last week that the lumber companies have destroyed 600 miles of spawning streams by dumping logs and bark into the waterways (see January 3 issue of the Pine Cone). Humboldt County is some distance from Carmel, geographically, but conservation problems are everybody's problems, no matter where they occur. We are pleased that Mr. Pattee is keeping the Pine Cone informed on his project because when the time comes, our readers, always willing to support conservation measures, may be able to help.

Mr. Pattee's letter:
California Legislature
Assembly
January 4, 1957

Dr. DeWitt Nelson, Director
Department of Natural Resources
State Office Building No. 1
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Nelson:

In my various trips on the Fish and Game Interim Committee, I was appalled at the condition of the streams in Humboldt County due to logging operations.

It has occurred to me that something might be done to insure the clean-up without infringing on the rights of private industry. I have been wondering what you would think of a bill that would have all lumber operators licensed on a revocable basis, and that they put up a sum, say five cents per thousand feet of lumber, and that this fund be held by the Division of Forestry for compliance with State laws on the clean-up. If they do a job that lives up to the State laws, the sum will be returned, if they don't the Forestry service will take the money to clean it up.

I would appreciate your thoughts on such legislation, or whether you think it is advisable to work out some sort of a bill on it.

Looking forward to seeing you in Sacramento this coming week.

Sincerely,
Alan G. Pattee.

Ansley K. Salz

Ansley K. Salz, patron of music and art, retired business executive and summer resident of Carmel, died on Thursday in the San Francisco hospital where he had been taken earlier in the day after he shot himself at his home at 301 Locust Street, San Francisco. Mr. Salz had been in poor health for the past several years.

He was a life member of the Monterey County Symphony Association and attended the Bach Festivals. Through Mr. Salz' generosity, paintings by local artists were added to the permanent collections of the San Francisco Museum of Art and other galleries. A musician, he collected rare stringed instruments, violins, violas and cellos, and presented many to the University of California, the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and the State of Israel. He also collected paintings, many of which were displayed on the walls of his home.

Mr. Salz was born 76 years ago in Stockton. He graduated from the University of California in 1902; he was for many years pres-

George Channing Lectures Here On Christian Science

When a man breaks a law of physical health while doing good and is punished by contracting a disease, he can remove that penalty by praying in the way Christian Science teaches, according to George Channing, C.B.S. of San Francisco, California, who lectured January 4, 1957 under the auspices of the Kullman Salz Company in Benicia, a tanning firm he liquidated in 1929. He then founded the A. K. Salz Company tannery in Santa Cruz. On 1953 he retired as president of the firm to become chairman of the board of directors. Last year the company was sold to Pacific Industries Incorporated, and Mr. Salz retired from active business life.

Before World War II Mr. Salz was a member of the State Unemployment Commission and later named to the War Labor Board. He was a member of the Olympic and Commonwealth Clubs.

Survivors are his wife, Helen Arnstein Salz of San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Anne Periman of San Francisco and Mrs. Margaret Lezin of Santa Cruz; a son, Andrew Salz of Honolulu; and 13 grandchildren.

Private funeral services for Mr. Salz were held on Friday in San Francisco at the Home of Peace Cemetery.

of the First Church of Christ, Scientist of this city. The subject of the lecture was "Christian Science: Its Verdict of Acquittal." Mr. Channing is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Every individual, Mr. Channing stated, can, by following the teachings of Christian Science, prove himself to be under spiritual law. This is done by realizing the divine and perfect Mind is the mind of man and the universe. Since perfect mind is expressed in perfect qualities or attributes anyone who recognizes these attributes of perfect Mind as constituting his own nature and presents that nature as his own in his daily life will find that the spiritual law of health applies to him.

Right qualities entertained in thought will crowd out wrong ones.

Mr. Channing said, and he added, that this Truth can be used to establish innocence by one who has even been trying to do wrong but who stops wrong doings to the extent that he makes it completely foreign to his nature. Mr. Channing spoke of a woman he knew who had been healed of a large tumor through the method of prayer Christian Science teaches. He also mentioned other instances of release from a sense of guilt, and, therefore, from punishment that comes to persons who establish innocence by identifying themselves as well as they can as having at least some of the attributes of the perfect Mind, God.

The secret: Flood the room with soft, glare-free light — cheerful light that lifts ceilings... pushes walls back... gives the room that light, airy feeling that comes with floor-to-ceiling windows all around. Here's how to get started:

(1) Count your lamps. It takes at least five lamps to light the average living room satisfactorily. Lamp shades should be white inside and open at the top for upward lighting.

(2) Check light bulbs. Table lamps should have bulbs totalling at least 150-watts; floor lamps, 300-watts.

(3) Balance the light. Place lamps so light fills the room evenly—reducing shadows, cutting down harsh glare.

With P. G. and E.'s low rates for electricity you can easily have better light, brighter living in every room in your home! Why not start right away?

Capitol Exhibit Shows in P. G.

A new Monterey County exhibit for the State Capitol Building in Sacramento made by an artist-craftsman team composed of Bernice Huber, Merton E. Hinshaw, and Kleber Gay will be installed this coming week end.

Miss Huber is an artist and ceramist of Carmel; Mr. Hinshaw and Mr. Gay are on the staff of the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. The bulk of the new exhibit is composed of seven dioramas of Monterey County activities or locations. They are Carmel Mission, the Custom House, Seal Rock, dairying, golfing, farming, and a rodeo scene. Also included in the exhibit will be a large background panel of photographs of other county activities.

The dioramas only will be on display at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12, just before installation in Sacramento.

The Time Has Come.

By Kippy Stuart

Ho-hum... The Time has really come to beat our Christmas decorations into plowshares and pruning hooks. It is Down To Earth, the real earth. I don't know whether or not we are fortunate, or unfortunate in our long garden seasons. The eastern and midwestern sections of our country are still buried in winter snows with small thought of gardens. Recently, when my airplane hovered over Chicago, I was in for a shock. It has been a long time since I have seen a city completely shrouded in deciduous flora, and there was Chicago, grim and desolate without a shred of green foliage to bless itself with. I was surprised and shocked to realize that Chicago did not take advantage of the wealth of evergreens available to offset the stark, forbidding outlook the visitor was in for upon arriving in the Windy City.

I carried the memory of that denuded city on my western flight, and suddenly, out of the mist, the Monterey Peninsula rushed toward me. It was like a rush into Paradise from the arid deserts of Chicago. A wave of healthy green greeted me; flowers dotted the landscape, yet the most gratifying sight was the myriad shades of green, from tender lettuce green to the deep sonorous green of our pines and cypress. I guess what I am trying to say is that I welcomed my home as eagerly as my home welcomed me.

There is no death here in our happy land; there is perpetual life-giving growing flora, even if we do growl at the personal effort we must make to maintain this status.

Which brings me to that symbol I mentioned; beating our decorations into pruning hooks. For pruning hooks are the order of the day. Fuchsias, roses and all perennials are now asking for help. Hydrangea is one of the hardest shrubs to prune. Here, in this never-never-land, things never seem to have the sense to shut up and stop blooming. Hydrangea especially refuse to go to sleep. Yet, if the bushes are not pruned very soon, there will be no flower crop for next summer and fall. Hydrangea must be pruned drastically, and very soon. Harvest your blooms now, dry them and make of them livingroom arrangements. They will be with you for a long time.

Cut the plants back to one foot above the ground, and the harder they are pruned, the better they will flower later in the year. Now, don't just sheer them off at the top; cut the canes in an irregular manner, leaving some a few inches lower, and some a few inches higher from the ground. As to fuchsia, the plant will tell you itself when it wishes to be pruned. I do not cut back fuchsia shrubs that look healthy and are still in bloom. When a fuchsia asks for help, the first indication is yellow leaves, bare canes and unhealthy flowers. Then go to work and give them what they are asking for; a good cleaning out from the center of the plant, with upright canes left and lateral canes pruned. Basket variety is best pruned in an irregular manner, cutting off all long, drooping branches, and shaping the plant as you wish it to mature later in the year.

Mazzi Here Every Monday

Members of the string section of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra are to have the opportunity of studying every Monday with Francesco Mazzi, violinist with the San Francisco Symphony for the past eight years. Mr. Mazzi is coming to Carmel each week at the invitation of Mrs. Helen Shutes, member of the string section of the County Orchestra. Before moving west Mr. Mazzi was concert master with the New York Civic Orchestra. He previously studied with Adolfo Betti of the Flonzaly Quartet both in New York and Europe. He attended the Juilliard School in New York and concertized in the East and in Europe before the war and was soloist with the New York Civic Orchestra in the Beethoven, Brahms and Mendelssohn violin concerts.

He is married and the father of four children Frank Jr., Maria, Anthony and Michael.

"I hope to bring them all to Carmel during the summer," says Mr. Mazzi, "if my San Francisco Symphony schedule will permit me to stay here long enough."

Duncans Off to Desert

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan will close their Candles of Carmel Shop on Tuesday and leave for a two weeks' vacation in Southern California. First they plan to visit the Gift Show in Los Angeles and then spend the rest of their holiday in Palm Springs. They will be back in Carmel to open the shop again on February 1.

Pine Inn Party for Sheila

Sheila Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Godwin, was one of the debutantes making her formal entrance into society at the San Francisco Cotillion at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel on December 27. Attending the pre-Cotillion dinner party given by the Godwins at the hotel were the Marquis and Marquise de Pins, the latter is Mrs. Godwin's cousin; Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Work, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Godwin Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Dr. Glen Gregg and Maynard Mahoney.

On June 19, Mr. and Mrs. Godwin are planning a dinner dance at Pine Inn in honor of their daughter. Present plans are that the dinner will be in the Victorian Room which is to be enlarged after the Crosby Golf Tournament, and the dancing in the Godwin's penthouse apartment at Pine Inn.

Sheila is remaining in Carmel until next June, continuing her art studies, with plans to attend the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn next fall. She is particularly interested in shoe designing and before Christmas was a student at the Parsons School of Design in New York.

Massies Come West

Last winter Henry and Mona Williams talked about Carmel in Richmond, Virginia, and unknowingly increased the population of California. First of the Virginians to come here, lured by the Williams' glowing tales of life in Carmel, were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conway and three sons Jim, Pete and Scott. Mrs. Conway is Mona William's sister.

The Hill-Massie family arrived from Richmond last week determined to forsake Virginia for California. Mrs. Massie is Dan Conway's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Massie and sons David and Dana are guests of the Conways at present and are planning to live in San Francisco with frequent visits to Carmel. Mr. Massie is a pathologist and medical photographer formerly associated with the Richard Medical Center. He is also interested in paleontology. This is his second visit to Carmel as he spent some weeks here in 1947 and admits he didn't need quite as much luring as the other Virginians . . . he'd always wanted to come back.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hittinger Sr. of Belmont, Massachusetts, and his sisters are Mrs. Robin Henning of Falls Church, Virginia, and Audrey and Phyllis Hittinger of Belmont. He is a graduate of the University of Denver where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and served in the Army as lieutenant for two years stationed in Japan.

First Home From Vallarta

F. Robert Smith is the first member of the Christmas in Puerto Vallarta contingent to arrive back in Carmel. Tanned and enthusiastic about the fishing, swimming and charming inhabitants of the small town in the Mexican province of Jalisco, he reports that his wife Lili, and three children Robin, Debbie and Penny, and Herb and Jane Vial and daughter Susie will be back in Carmel on Wednesday. Also due to arrive back next week are Jon and Frances Konigshofer and son John who Christmassed in Mexico City and planned to join the Puerto Vallarta group later.

Lois' Birthday Present

Max Gardner gave his wife Lois a present on Wednesday, her birthday, his army release after two years duty as a specialist with the Fort Ord Public Information Office. Lois was pleased with the army release but has mixed feelings about the aftermath . . . she has to leave Carmel and her secretarial job at the City Hall on Saturday. Max has been offered a fine job in Austin, Texas, as assistant news director of television station KTBC and also the opportunity to work under the southwest talent scout for CBS.

Austin is Lois' home town, though, and she will be back with her palominos, her hunter and jumper and able once again to take up barrel racing and hunting.

"I'm happy to have been lucky enough to live in Carmel for two years," she says, "and I mean to come back some day."

MPVS Give $9,496

The annual meeting of Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, held last Friday morning at the USO, brought out 60 members to hear the 1956 reports of accomplishments by committee chairmen, and to install 1957 officers. Mrs. Carl Menneken, who succeeds herself as president, presided.

Mrs. Roy Page, treasurer, reported gifts made to 12 local philanthropic organizations in 1956 totalled $9,496—the largest sum of $2,984, raised at the flower arrangement show held in the Noel J. Poux home, going to the Carmel Foundation; the second largest of $2,466, made by the annual garden tour, to the Visiting Nurse Association.

Chairmen reporting on the year's work included Mrs. G. Ross Rede, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Howell Armor, membership and placement; Mrs. A. Boyd Mewborn, thrift shop; Mrs. Arthur Dresser, hospitality; Mrs. Rodney Mason, international scholarships, and Miss Margaret Prosser, publicity. In addition, Mrs. Archer Allen reported on her work for the Carmel Foundation, Mrs. J. N. Grider with Family Service, Mrs. James Tyson with Seaside Boys and Girls Club, Mrs. Arthur Dresser on Carmel Youth Center.

In her president's report, Mrs. Carl Menneken paid tribute to the loyal work of the 157 members, as well as to the whole-hearted support given by Peninsula residents to the projects undertaken by MPVS. She expressed her gratitude to Mrs. Mewborn, under whose chairmanship the Thrift Shop netted $6,424 in 1956 far outstripping expectations.

Mrs. Menneken's appointments, approved by the membership, were as follows: Mrs. Rollo Payne, budget; Mrs. Roy Page, assisted by Mrs. Edward McMurry, special projects; Mrs. Clay Smalley, membership and placement; Mrs. Henry T. Chace, hospitality; Mrs. Philips N. Davies, international scholarships; James H. Parks, board member at large and Claire Naftzger to represent MPVS on the Interclub Council.

Mrs. Laurids Jorgenson and Mrs. F. Corning Kenly were introduced as new members.

County Planners Save Bixby Creek Beach

(Continued From Page One) the planning commission and the property owners work out a plan to "preserve" the beach but the planning commission seemed inclined to regard any deal with the property owners for sealing up the beach for a preserve ultimately meant "private preserve for the property owners."

"Once the beach is taken out of the plan, it will be almost impossible to get it back in," commented Donald Colgrove, newly re-elected chairman of the board. He added that nothing would be done about acquiring the beach immediately, anyway . . . "perhaps not for ten years" and the property owners could come back at any time and ask for a review.

Joseph D. Thorn, Jr., Monterey member, moved "that Bixby Creek not be excluded from the plan." He was seconded by Walter Rosenberg, member from San Ardo, and the motion passed without a dissenting vote.

Francis Whitaker, property owner at Bixby Creek and stock holder in the Bixby Creek Corporation, did not appear at this meeting, and he says he has not represented the corporation at previous meetings, as stated in the last issue of the Pine Cone.

In spite of four commendable "noes," permission was granted

The proposed 12 by 28 foot board had previously been turned down when it read, "The Strip: Motels, Restaurants." Assistant District Attorney John Thornburn, County Surveyor Sam Black, Commissioner Evans and Chairman Colgrove voted no on the revised design (100 square ft.) also. They were opposed to any billboards being erected for that purpose and on that road, but there are 11 voting members on the commission. Mr. Colgrove felt that the sign's purpose was advertising rather than directional.

Under the anti-billboard ordinance, existing off-site advertising signs will be eliminated in four years and the commission should not grant special permits for new competitive signs, he said. Mr. Black observed that other shopping districts and motel areas would apply for "directional" sign permits. Mr. Thornburg pointed out that the ordinance provides that special permits be granted in cases of hardship or practical difficulties. He did not think hardship was involved here.

A saw mill, popping up out of nowhere to establish itself in the beautiful grazing country near the top of Los Laureles Grade, jolted the commission into putting the area (for 500 feet on both sides of both old and new road) under interim zoning.

Donald C. MacDonald was present to represent the property owners of the area and urged that the area be zoned for agricultural use only.

Carmel Planning Commission Chairman George Wilcox, present as an observer, congratulated Mr. Colgrove, on behalf of the Carmel Commission, on his re-election to the chairmanship.

Public Hearing On C-2 Amendment Set For January 23

(Continued from Page One) ning Commission sees fit, will be sent to the city council. The council will hold a public hearing on the amendment and the amendment cannot be changed by the council. But the council can send it back to the Planning Commission for change and with a public hearing. The January 23 Planning Commission public hearing is the citizens' best chance to state whether they want the amendment as it stands before it is returned to the council.

"There's nothing in the amendment to prevent a motel being built with open space on the ground floor," points out City Clerk Larry Rose.

INCOME TAX CLASSES

The Carmel Adult School is again offering Federal and State Income Tax Preparation. Joseph McClosky, a member of California Society of Public Accountants, will conduct the classes. The objective of this course is to enable taxpayers who normally seek individual assistance from Internal Revenue Service and Franchise Tax Board to complete their own individual income tax returns. It is not intended that instructors will complete forms for taxpayers. The class will meet on Monday and Thursday evenings in Room 6 of Sunset school at 7:30 o'clock for a series of six meetings beginning January 14. If there is enough interest the class will be repeated.

For additional information phone MA 4-3020 Monday through Thursday evenings or Charles Dawson at MA 4-4015.

"And Thereby Falls" City Doesn't Agree, To Appeal ABC Ruling

(Continued from Page One) would not be in conjunction with and subordinate to some other business but it "found" the city's ordinance to be invalid because, "The regulation of the sale of alcoholic beverages is vested by the Constitution of the State of California in the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The section of the ordinance in question steps beyond the field of zoning into the field of regulation and thereby comes in conflict with the said constitutional provision and thereby falls. Furthermore, the said provision of the ordinance is discriminatory in that it singles out the sale of alcoholic beverages from other legitimate businesses, for which additional reason it is invalid."

ANY LEAKS?

It's a good idea to check your plumbing now and then. Leaky pipes and fixtures waste a lot of water and run up bills fast. Although there may be no visible evidence of a leak in the house, there may be hidden ones you can't see. A sure way to find out is to check your meter. If the "one-foot" hand does not move when all outlets are turned off—no leaks. But if it does you can be certain that there's a leak somewhere which should be run down and attended to as quickly as possible. Why pay for water you don't use?
